Dear Roger Nick:

Please find enclosed two resubmitted Petitions for Impeachment against Judge Hiram Carpenter of Blair County, Pa. and Judge William Henry of Jefferson County, Pa. By no fault of your own it has been seven years since my initial filing of these petitions and nothing has been done to address the crimes of these two rogue judges. I am not filing these things to amuse myself, and adamantly believe it would be in the best interest of the public that these matters be addressed in the 2008 legislative session. Again, I would very much appreciate your professional attention and diligence in bringing this matter before the House of Representatives and the House Judiciary Committee.

On a side note, maybe I am naive and a little slow catching on to what is happening here, but it seems to me that these petitions are deliberately getting buried at the bottom of the legislative list of things-to-do for the obvious reason. Corrupt public officials in the legislature protect corrupt public officials in the judiciary, visa-versa. Could it be that one fears to flip over rocks because they don't know what scandal will surface or who will come crawling out from under next? If I am wrong, I would sure appreciate an explanation from any judiciary committee member why it is legal and procedurally proper to obstruct justice by ignoring constitutionally sanctioned impeachment petitions evidencing egregious criminal conduct of an elected official.

I am sorry to bore you folks with this issue and surely apologize for my ethical standards, moral values, thinking a little old fashioned and believing that the good guys always win, but it is my belief that cover ups by any branch of government only serve to encourage more unethical conduct by public officials and undermine the publics confidence in government. This is becoming self evident through the bonus-gate investigation and the other underhanded back door dealings perpetrated in the Pennsylvania House of ill-repute. This good-ole-boy culture of corruption in Harrisburg smacks of the 1880's William "Boss" Tweed ring or the 1930's Chicago crime families. From where I am standing it is getting awful hard to separate the good guys from the bad guys.

Thanks for your time and please pass this letter on to Mr. Thomas Caltagione.

Very disappointed
