

Dads treated like criminals

EDITOR: The 10 commandments as set forth by the only female judge in Blair County:

1. The divorced mother shall be granted custody of all minor children, regardless.

2. The divorced father shall pay child support to the amount set forth by this court, regardless.

3. The divorced father shall never question how child support is spent.

4. The divorced father shall be granted visitations only if child support is paid up and divorced mother agrees.

5. If problems arise with visitations, the divorced father shall seek counseling with a female psychologist appointed by this court.

6. The divorced father's parents are not to be taken into consideration because they spawned the evil divorced father and are to be considered evil themselves.

7. The divorced father shall never question this court's decisions because the court is looking out for the best interest of the children and this court is never wrong.

8. If children of divorced mother and father suggest that they would like to live with the divorced father, they are to be told they are not mature enough to make that decision.

9. The divorced mother is to be treated like a saint.

10. The divorced father is to be treated like a common criminal.
